Q: Does the LocationServices.FusedLocationApi.requestLocationUpdates() make a request to the server for every location update? I am working on an Android app, and I have implemented location based push notifications for both continuous location updates and one time location updates. For continuous updates, I use LocationServices.FusedLocationApi.requestLocationUpdates(). If I choose to ask for one time location updates, I can use LocationServices.FusedLocationApi.requestLocationUpdates(googleApiClient, locationRequest, locationListener, 2edc1e01e8
